Response coefficients only; couplings must be fixed independently of support